THE MAT CODE

Five things every kid on the mat does.

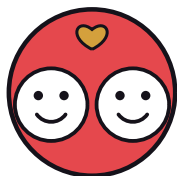

SAY HELLO

Greet your coach and your partner. Bow, smile or say hi. Everyone was new once.

TAP EARLY, TAP OFTEN

Tapping means stop. It keeps everyone safe. Tap fast, and let go the moment your partner taps.

LOOK AFTER YOUR PARTNER

You can't train alone. Go gently, never hurt, and help them up.

LISTEN WITH BIG EARS

When your coach talks: eyes up, mouths closed, ears open.

TRY AGAIN

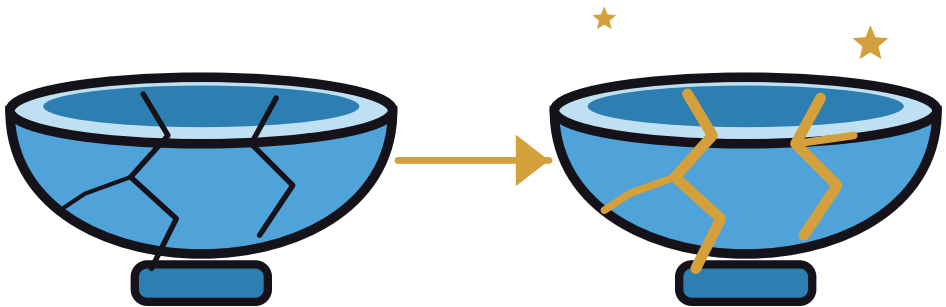

Everyone gets stuck, squashed and confused. Getting back up is the real move.

STRONGER WHERE IT BROKE

In Japan there is an old art called kintsugi (kin-TSOO-gee). When a bowl breaks, the maker doesn't throw it away. They mend it with gold.

The cracks aren't hidden. They are the best part of the bowl.

Jiu-jitsu is a bit like that. You will get tapped. You will forget a move. Some days nothing works. That's normal. Every time you get up and try again, you add a little gold.

BROKEN

MENDED

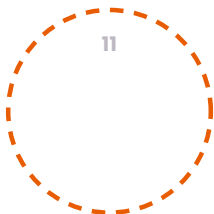

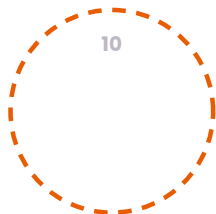

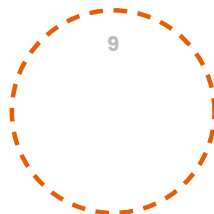

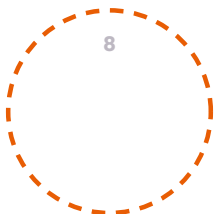

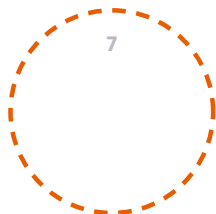

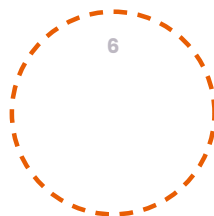

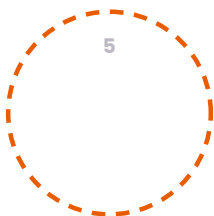

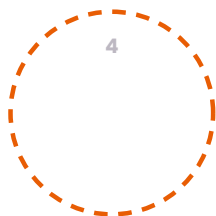

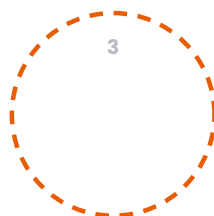

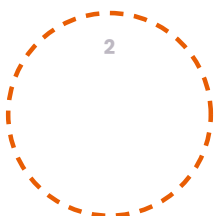

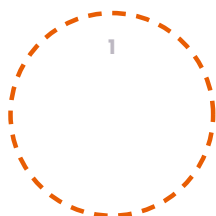

Your turn: trace the cracks in the broken bowl with a gold or yellow pen.

OCTO'S STAMPS

Classes 1 – 12

Eight arms and no panic. One class at a time.

After class, ask your coach for a stamp, a sticker or a signature.

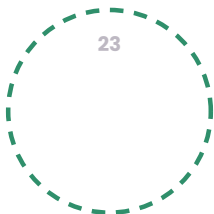

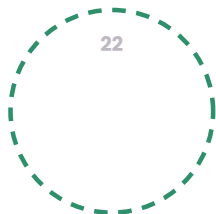

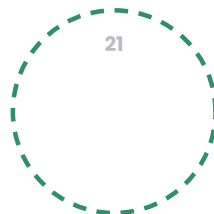

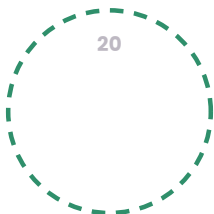

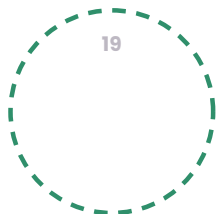

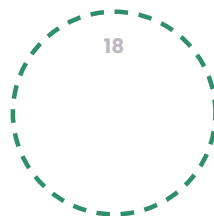

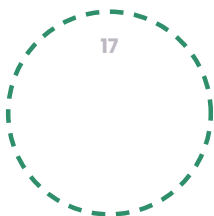

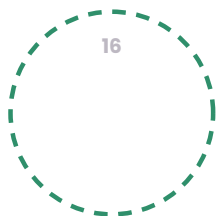

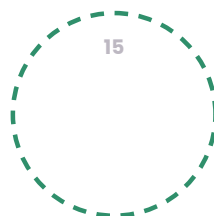

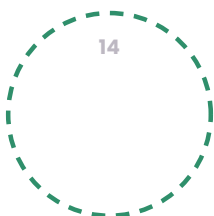

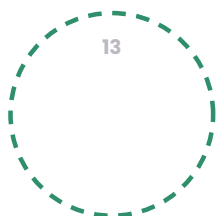

SHELLY'S STAMPS

Classes 13 – 24

Slow and steady still gets there. Mending as it goes.

After class, ask your coach for a stamp, a sticker or a signature.

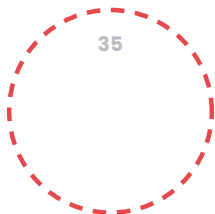

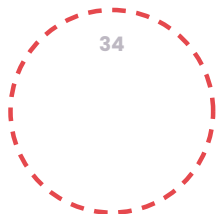

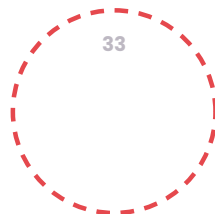

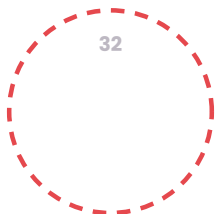

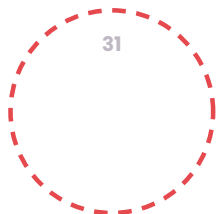

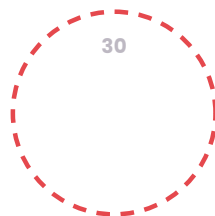

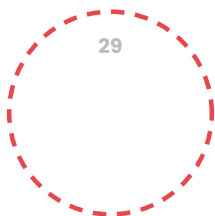

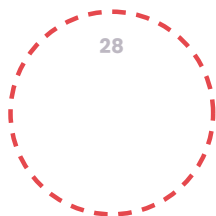

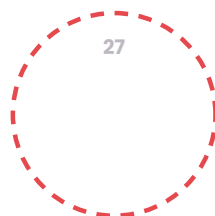

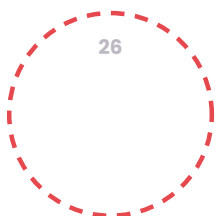

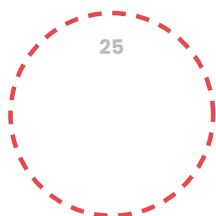

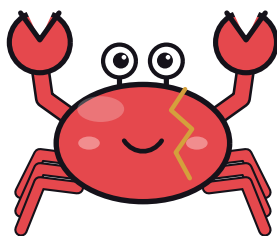

SID'S STAMPS

Classes 25 – 36

Sideways is a perfectly good direction.

After class, ask your coach for a stamp, a sticker or a signature.

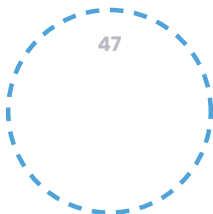

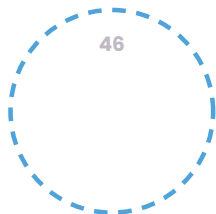

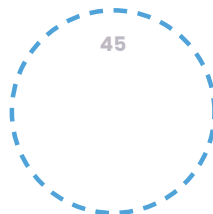

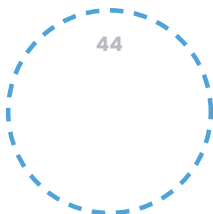

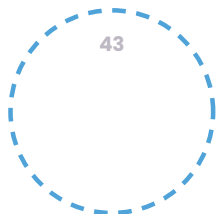

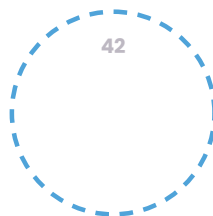

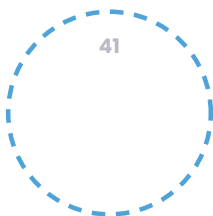

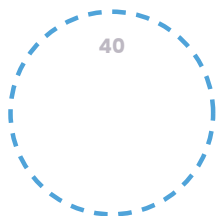

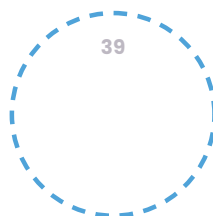

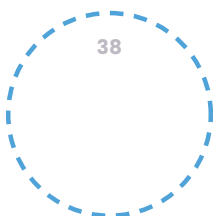

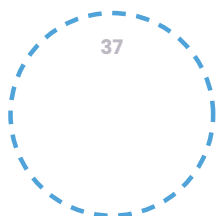

KOI'S STAMPS

Classes 37 – 48

Koi swim up waterfalls. Keep swimming.

After class, ask your coach for a stamp, a sticker or a signature.

BADGES

Earn one, then ask your coach to sign it.
